

White Stallions

Saint Vitus

White Stallions
(Chandler)yesterday I saw my face pictured in the sky
 as I gazed upon myself my whole life flashed by I heard the sound of hoofbeats from a thousand angry mares before I could control my thoughts my inner soul was theirswhite stallions in my vein
 white stallions
 lord stop me before I go insanetook me to the promised land where everything is free looked around and saw my friends laughing loud at me a great stone wall divided us on their side was a dance on my side was endless torture guess I blew my chanceonly time can ease the pain the stallions left behind tiny hoofprints on my arm strung out in a line wish that I could start again and change my evil ways trapped upon the stallion's back 'till my dying days

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>