

Rock Show

Grinspoon

would u like another pill for printing up the dollar bills keep on lookin at the weather vane in the end its all the same not worth knowing time controlling that no-one cares and nothings free with the reasons ending up its easy 2 see still controlling in the format u don't owe me u can't sell that
rock show
get in a rock show theres another fine reason get in a rock show get in a the smoker takes another token when the joker plays another joke stars keep fallin from the sky people watch and don't ask why glasses broken love unspoken

your looking up your looking down when the other preacher comes and rolls into town u don't own me u can't sell that
still controlling in the format
get in a rock show theres another fine reason get in a rock show theres another fine reason u don't own me u can sell that
still controlling in the format
get in the rock show get in a rock show its still all the same show theres another fine reject theres another fine reason for still the same reason theres an undefined reason get in a rock show

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>