

Somewhere Else

Indians

I used to look for you out in the daylight
I took highways and side streets and back lanes
 Slept under open skies
 Life could be cruel
Life could be sweet if I want it to be
 This town that I once called home
 I just can't hold on to
It's got strip malls and bus stops and people
 I never really talk to
 She said, ?Life could be sweet
But life is so cruel 'cause I let it be?
 Everybody out here
They wanna live somewhere else

I wish I could find a place
 And stay there by myself
Bit by bit I swear I think I'm losing
 All this city's confidence
 Everybody out here
They wanna live somewhere else
I wish I could find a place
 Stay there by myself
Bit by bit I swear I think I'm losing
 All this city's confidence
 I swear I've lost
 All this city's confidence
