

Ask The Lonely

John Gary Williams

You've been thinkin it's over
What's the chip on your shoulder?
Out side were solid rainbows
Inside is where the heart growsPicking up the pieces
Something more to believe in
As you search the embers
Think what you've had, rememberHang on, don't you let go now
You know, with every heartbeat, we love
Nothing comes easy
Hang on, ask the lonelyYou've got some fascination
With you high expectations
This love is your obsession
Your heart, your past possessionLet down your defenses
Won't be up to the one who cares
As you search the embers
Think what you've had, rememberHang on, don't you let go now
You know, with every heartbeat, we love
Nothing comes easy
Hang on, ask the lonelyWhen you're feeling love's unfair
You just ask the lonely
When you're lost in deep despair
You just ask the lonelyWhen you're feeling love's unfair
You just ask the lonely
When you're lost in deep despair
You just ask the lonelyWhen you're feeling love's unfair
You just ask the lonely
When you're lost in deep despair
You just ask the lonelyAsk the lonely
When you're down in deep despair
When you're down in deep despair
Ask the lo-lo-lonely, lo-lo-lonely
Lonely

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>