LONELY CHRISTMAS CALL

Writers George Jones and George Riddle

Copyright 1966

You left two years ago this Christmas and we're wondering if you miss us

Don't know why you ever left and went away

The kids're lonely here without you they even wrote old Santa bout you

Please don't leave them all alone this Christmas day

Don't you miss their arms around you don't old memories surround you

Don't you know it's not their fault things are this way

Why not show consideration for the ones whose heart you're breaking

Give them your gift of love this Christmas day

If you could see their little faces as round the tree they take their places

They're looking for the biggest gift of all

So why not show consideration for the ones whose heart you're breaking

Won't you beckon to our lonely Christmas call

Won't you beckon to our lonely Christmas call
