

Sowing the Seeds of Utopia

Bad Religion

We all know politicians only go
Just halfway there, just halfway there
The innocence of youth needs protection not abuse
But no one seems to care, yet no one seems to care And you sit there and watch the world go around
From your pseudo benevolent vantage point
While we who've been left to pick up after you
Try our best to make some sense for those who come next Now what have you done to foster the truth
Besides just hide the lies, besides just hide the lies?
A selfish campaign never justifies the gain
But the means are verified, yea the means are verified And you sit there and insist you are right
From your popular psychological podium
While those who rely and depend on you
They wilt because you don't accept we need each other

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>