The Jeep Song

The Dresden Dolls

I've been driving around town With my head spinning around Everywhere I look, I see

Your '96 Jeep Cherokee You're a bully and a clown

You made me cry and put me down

After all that I've been through

You think I'd hate the sight of youBut with every jeep I see

My broken heart still skips a beat

I guess it's just my stupid luck

That all of Boston drives the same black, fucking truckIt could be him or am I tripping

And I'm crashing into everything

And thinking about skipping town a while

Until these cars go out of styleI try to see it in reverse

It makes the situation hundreds of times worse

When I wonder if it makes you want to cry

Every time you see a light blue Volvo driving bySo don't tell me if you're off to see the world

I know you won't get very far

Don't tell me if you get another girl

Baby, just tell me if you get another carIt could be him or am I tripping

It could be himThe number of them is insane

Every exit's an ex-boyfriend memory lane

Every major street's a minor heart attack

I see a red jeep and I want to paint it blackIt could be him or am I tripping

And I'm crashing into everything

I can't wait till you trade the damn thing in

By then they will have put me in the looney binIt could be him my heart is pounding

It's just no use, I'm surrounded

But one day I'll steal your car and switch the gears

And drive that Cherokee straight off this trail of tears
