

The Present (As Heard In Random Hearts)

Tony Reynolds

There are things I could have done so differently,
On the road to here I am turning out to be,
There are better ways I could have spend the time,
All the things I matter the most got pushed aside,
There are choices I could make right here and now,
Base on all the years and tears of learning how,
There's a line in time we see,
Yesterday is only who only used to be.

The present is a gift we open everyday,
One more chance to give your love away,
Yesterday's a memory,
Tomorrow still a mystery,
The present is a gift for you and me.

There are times when only feel this for the need,
There are such a hard and hungry soul to feed,
Spending too much time on wishing all the stars,
Missing out on only have and for me all,
Take my hand and feel the truth of here and now,
There's a prayer that leads a heart to learning how,
How the cherish once become,
Tomorrow isn't guaranteed to anyone,

The present is a gift we often open every day,
One more chance to give your love away,
Yesterday's a memory,
Tomorrow still a mystery,
The present is a gift for you and me.

Yesterday's a memory,
Tomorrow such a mystery,
The present is a gift for you and me.
For you and me.
