Fool

Rollins Band

I should have seen my end coming from a long way off don't get caught but I went right ahead and told myself my friend said: man, she'll give you the blues so man.. a pack of lies and spend night after hammered nightgetting back my mind my heart is so wide open, I'm so easy to deceive I'm a fool, I'll keep believing, I'm a fool, I believe it all I am a fool when I need you, I'm a fool to believe I'm a fool who'll keep on trying and like a fool I will crawlI waste my time in my mind thinking of you
I should be healing myself instead of hurting myself
I am a fool I know and it hurts to keep learning the same, lessons and pain
I am a fool I know
I am a fool I know, I know, I know self mutilation is the only thing that I know, I'm a fool I know your muscles fles, you have the kind of eyes I know first hand so well, all the hard times you direct I've seen your front teeth sharpen and I've watched that turn mere mortals into wrecks seduced, rejected, reduced, ejected...again... you can do anything you wantyou all tell your city's calling after you
I am a fool, I know, because it's all I know, I am a fool I knowI know, I know, yeah, I am a fool I know, Yeah
