

Burning Now

Robyn Cage

In whispers you told me
I really hurt you this time
Not sure where you're going
But this is where you draw the line
You're angry and bitter
You need some time alone
To weigh and consider
And maybe someday you'll come home
Chorus:
As I watched you go, my coldness melted
I didn't know you'd ever felt it
You didn't show I'd hurt you.... ohh
I held back, denied it
I tried to play it safe
I was selfish, divided
I tried to take more than I gave
I see now, I used you
I never realized what I did
Love, did I abuse you
More than you're able to forgive?
Chorus:
As I watched you go, my coldness melted
I didn't know you'd ever felt it
You didn't show I'd hurt you
Bridge:
But I'm learning now
My love is burning now
I'd do anything
To make you turn around
These icy walls are burning
My icy heart is burning now
Our closet looks empty
As your side of the bed
My longing, attempting
To fill the void you left
I'm cleaning our bedroom
So it looks nice if you come back

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>