FOH

Superchunk

Did you knew something
Oh, I love something
To explain why I'm down
Here on the ground
Looking, oh, in the silence
Reliving the permanence every morning
It's where I'll be foundSo how's everything at the front of the house?
How's everything at the front of the house?
I feel down but you're moving about
So how's everything at the front of the house?You're towing those
You're always open
You radiate a radiate and the breeze
The breeze, it blows in
I have to live to the jaws of sand
We get a report, we got struggle for it
Maybe the windows never could
Maybe if we weigh our clothes
Maybe we can keep goingHow's everything at the front of the house?
How's everything at the front of the house?
Tie through the ' is down
But how's everything at the front of the house?How's everything at the front of the house?
How's everything at the front of the house?
I smile and sob 'cause I can't get out
But how's everything at the front of the house?How's everything at the front of the house?
I don't know, I can't see outHow's everything at the front of the house?
I don't know, I can't see outHow's everything at the front of the house?
How's everything at the front of the house?
The drums exploded and our amps are down
But Mathew's got it wired and we're coming aroundHow's everything at the front of the house?
How's everything at the front of the house?
Tell me, are you coming around?
When are you coming around?Are you coming around?
