Lost

Leo Stannard

Broke man
Good man
Hundred million dollar man
Everybody's part of this chain
And I'm lying here
Not having to decide which kind of man I want to be Cause I am part of this game
And I tried to
Let you know what I know
But I know you
You dive so deep
So you're never gonna see
And leaving no real sign of a trace
Being swallowed in the sea now
It's getting hard to breathe now
But nothing's really sparking a change
And I tried to
Let you know what I know
But I know youAnd I told you to go there
So wake up from this sleep
And I told you to go there
Why aim low
When the world is all yours
Break away and just get out of this cage
Be free now you're never gonna see how
Your life is really going if you stay this way
Well I tried to
Let you know what I know
But I know youAnd I told you to go there
So wake up from this sleep
And I told you to go thereLying so low under layers of dust
And the cold air seeps through cracks that you must not see
If this life is all that you know
The lying gets tough
When there's acts of grace
And your love is not real
And for now you'll never really see
But you've got to break eventuallyJust don't get lost
Just don't get lost

Just don't get lost
Just don't get lost
Just don't get lost
Just don't get lost
Just don't get lost
And I told you to go there
And I told you to go there
And I told you to go there
And I told you to go there
