

Charmer

Slogun

When you're a charmer
the apples fall and you're quite the little collector you got 'em all
When you're a charmer
people respond they can't see the hidden agenda you got going on
But when you're weak it's a Holy Grail You're two for one; it's a fire sale and that's a wall that you cannot scale So you're forced to burrow under
When you're a charmer

the world applauds they don't know that secretly charmers feel like they're frauds
When you're a charmer
you hate yourself a victim of sexual-hypnosis like everyone else
And when your thinking goes black and white and you're all hunger and appetite this is a battle you cannot fight where you only can surrender No, you only can surrender
No, you only can surrender
