Movie

The Birthday Massacre

Face them, the time will erase them
Stop trying to chase them
I've taken my place and it's not worth the tearsI waited so long for this love
As another was slipping away
I waited so long for this moment
As the others were wastedCast a shade to save your eyes
Take this time to turn and say goodbyeFrozen, the words go unspoken
New victims are chosen
My heart will be broken but so will my fearI waited so long for this love
As another was slipping away
I waited so long for this moment
As the others were wastedCast a shade to save your eyes
Take this time to turn and say goodbye
