

Existence

Eroded

All my life I've searched for answers
All my life I've searched for answers
 Some suffer, some thrive
 Some live, some die
 Some love, some hate
 Some find nothing in common
 Some relate, some sin
 Some are innocent, some are good
 Some are bad and some sad
 All I want is to understand
All my life I've searched for answers
 Why can't I know the reasons we live
 Who is this God, we all worship
 Will we ever know?
 Some think, some drink
 Some sink into a hole they can't let go
 Others bleed for their sins
 Some draw blood for them ends
 Some steel, some deal
Some peel off their skin and try to start again
 The rest fiend, the rest still dream
 My heart pumps just to feel that cream
 I'm elevated cross faded with a bag of tricks

I'm in the mix since 96'
Shoot the facts and relax, we melt on wax
 On top of the world is where we at
 When I trip I slip, I kinda got grip
 To the left and to the right shit this tight
 'Cause I'm an addict addicted to music
 It's a habit you know I choose it
 All my life I've searched for answers
 Why can't I know the reasons we live
 Who is this God, we all worship
 Will we ever know?
 Scrape the pieces off the wall of my hate
 Clean the slate but its far to late
 I stitch my own skin you can't penetrate
 Don't look back its all fate

All my life I've searched for answers
Why can't I know the reasons we live
 Who is this God, we all worship
 Will we ever know?
All my life I've searched for answers
Why can't I know the reasons we live
 Who is this God, we all worship
 Will we ever know?
