Open Season

Josef Salvat

We used to have it all planned,
We thought we knew what all looked like
We were looking out on the greatest view
We were raised to take the stand,
We were raised to keep an open mind
We believed that we'll just sail on through
Down a hundred miles an hour,
Sitting in my palace without any power
Alone in the dark,
We're alone in the dark!
Thought we could always try a bit harder
But if the dice don't wanna roll in your favor
It falls apart, the fantasy falls apart!

This is open season,
Time is up, time to be leaving
Head on down this very arbitrary road
Armor up, and say your prayers
from underdogs and millionaires
I heard you better off on your own
But I ain't gonna face this hunt alone
So I'll be needing you
And I know you'll be needing me too
We're in this thing together
We're in this thing together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together

Are we voices that were forgotten,
All the tracks we're giving up?
I'ma show you for a moment
No it was nowhere near enough
But I take it comes, I take it as I only can I take it on, and run where it goes!

'Cause this is open season,
Time is up, time to be leaving

It all goes down to this very arbitrary road
Armor up, and say your prayers
from underdogs and millionaires
I heard you better off on your own
But I ain't gonna face this hunt alone
So I'll be needing you
And I know you'll be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together

So I'll be needing you

We're only at the start

So I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!

So I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
