

Something Worth Living For

Shayne Ward

I don't wanna leave you here all by yourself
I just wanna let you know I'm there for you, like no one else
I don't wanna drift off to another place
I just wanna lay here in your arms, with your hand on my face
So let's not ever tell the moon about the sun
I'll keep hearing love songs, hoping every wrong's undone
It's foolish, but we've only just begun
I don't wanna stop this, all my walls are cavin' in
I wanna give you something worth livin' for, oh yeah
I wanna tell you this and so much more
My everything, my universe
I'm so mesmerized by your serenity
Hopefully you'll take me there, inside your dreams
Just like autumn leaves I'm falling over you
It's so unbelievable, but yet, so true
Our imperfections are so beautiful right now
I don't even see them, only diamonds now, remain
It's crazy how without making a sound
You can make me feel things, all my walls are cavin' in
I wanna give you something worth living for, oh yeah
I wanna tell you this and so much more
My everything, my universe
You're something worth living for
Something worth living for
So let's not ever tell the moon about the sun
I'll keep hearing love songs, hopin' every wrong's undone
It's foolish, but we've only just begun
I don't wanna stop this, all my walls are caving in
I wanna give you something worth living for, oh yeah
I wanna tell you this and so much more
My everything, you are my universe
Something worth living for
Something worth living for
You're something worth living for
