Everything's OK

Chris Rice

Looked out my window last night
From my pillow and I
Saw the willow weepin' a causal sighMan in the moon looked rather Sad and confused as if he'd
Become a mirror into my watery eyes
I dreamed and prayed through the night
Please send some grace with your mornin' lightThen he sent you along like a summer day
With a blue sky smile on your funny face
And a bird flew by singin'
Everything's gonna be ok, yeahSo we laughed all day with the man in the moon
And we thanked the good Lord for the afternoon
'Cause he showed me His love by sendin' me you
And it's ok now, everything's okI opened my window tonight
Hear the rain fallin' light
Whispering that everything's alrightLong, low, and gentle rumble
Starts in the west and tumbles
Across the corners of the colorless sky
I blow a kiss through the dark
Sails on the thunder and reaches Heaven's heart'Cause he sent you along like a summer day
If a blue sky smile on your funny face
And a bird flew by singin'
Everything's gonna be ok, yeahSo we laughed all day with the man in the moon
And we thanked the good Lord for the afternoon
'Cause he showed me His love by sendin' me you
And it's ok now, everything's okSo we laughed all day
And we thanked the good Lord
'Cause He showed me His love, ok nowHe sent you along like a summer day
With a blue sky smile on your funny face
And a bird flew by singin'
Everything's gonna be ok, yeahWe laughed all day with the man in the moon
And we thank the good Lord for the afternoon
'Cause he showed me His love by sendin' me you
And it's ok now, everything's ok, yeah
Everything's ok, yeah, yeah, everything's ok

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/