Fairytales

Alex Preston

The kid's drum starts playing
And it matches my beating heart
No where to go or no one to see
Is it the finish line or the start?
And I look into your soft perfume
And I see only sun-lined trees

Oh, it makes me wonder
Oh, it makes me wonder
Can you even see me? yeah

Oh, so take my hand
And jump over this mess
This is a fairy tale
And you're the damsel in distress
Cross the river to the other side

I promise you that it's nicer here
Take your hands from your face don't hide
There is no reason for your fear
No reason for your fear
