I See Your Face

Paradise Lost

Coming back today, the pounding thoughts relay
It's a time that's for myself
I'm laying low, strife is gaining slow
A kind of anguish I don't needWhen I see your frown, hurt will put me down
If I could see a light shining
Is this borrowed time maybe a final time
That I can see a light shiningWill you make it slow, pure evil makes it slow
I know you're brandishing the sign
Dare I take a chance in this circumstance
Or will I leave without a hopeWhen you seal my fate, sorrow turns to hate
If I can see a light shining
Is this borrowed time maybe a final time
That I can see a light shining?What one man makes is there for one to take
A single handed fall from grace
Hearts beating fast, beating till the last
A draining feeling's all that I knowWhen I see your frown, it becomes my frown
If I could see a light shining
Is this borrowed time maybe a final time
That I can see a light shining?
See a light shining
