Modern Soul

James Blake

I know a crossroads where I see them, see them
I want it to be over, I want it to be over
So I swim to you while I'm sleeping
Through sage green rivers of EnglandI see the scenery changes, changes
I want it to be over, I want it to be over
When I don't think of you, the willpower
What I didn't see was I was talking to so many people at once
I had no idea I was
I had no idea of the difference between
The way I saw your face and the way it wasBecause of a few songsI remember laughing, to take that away from you
To take that away from you, I remember laughing
I remember laughing, to take that away from you
To take that away from you, I remember laughing
The smaller the waves, you let me down
The longer I will defend you
The smaller the waves, you let me down
The longer I will defend you (because of a few songs)

Songwriters
JAMES BLAKEPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group,

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/