The Embrace

Cemetary

the fire cast its shadow tounges caught in the night never to be captured never to see the light rejected all salvation a thorn in every hand dark is the devotion pearls lost in the sandhow I wish I knew it then feel evil crawl in embracing me againyou know I'm all but sorry your cold caress can't heal me this hurt is mine alone a cancer growing in my bones would you face the struggle? see it just as I?
or forever close your eyes and let the stormclouds pass on bya slave to my desire crimson honey on my lips order of the process dead red passion trip I don't have the answer and you don't need to know sundown over the wastelands echoes from below
and now it has been done
