

Staring at the Sun

Chrom

Everything I used know
Were the things you told me
And I almost disappeared
But you came to save me
Now you left me incomplete
And I'm searching for you
And now the dawn is breaking through I'm staring at the sun
And hope that you would come
I'm staring at the sun Everything I used know
Were the things you told me
And I almost disappeared
But you came to save me
I can see you in my dreams
Don't wanna wake up
Another dawn is breaking through I'm staring at the sun
And hope that you would come
I'm walking all alone
And try to find my home
I'm staring at the sun I'm staring at the sun
And hope that you would come
I'm walking all alone
I try to find my home I'm staring at the sun
And hope that you would come
I'm walking all alone
I try to find my home I'm staring at the sun
