Should I Tell Them

Shaun Groves

Walking with You is not without hazards
Tripping's this traveler's curse
The price paid for fallin' is more than my stumble
In a world that is watching and waitin' for worstBut I listened when You said to go
And I set out in spite of my fears
I brought truth mixed with my imperfections
And the question of what to say when I got here
And now that I'm hereShould I tell them that You are the one who has made me
And saved me to set up a home there inside
Should I tell them that I am
A perfect example of all You can do with a life
What should I say to them, what if I'm failing them?
What should I tell them tonight?Don't get me wrong, I'm thankful to be here
With this song to sing and a spotlight on me
But lately I'm wondering if You are mistaken
If You're seein' all of me there is to seeBut on every face I detect
These same questions I've posed to you
Like "Do You speak through the imperfect
Or are we too dirty for Your light to get through?"
I want Your light to get throughShould I tell them that You are the one who has made me
And saved me to set up a home there inside
Should I tell them that I am
A perfect example of all You can do with a life
What should I say to them, what if I'm failing them?
What should I tell themThey're thirsty but my cup is empty, Lord
Come and meet me here in this place
'Cause I'm unashamed, but I'm unprepared
And I'm just plain afraidShould I tell them that You are the one who has made me
And saved me to set up a home there inside
Should I tell them that I am
A perfect example of all You can do with a lifeShould I tell them that You are the one who has made me
And saved me to set up a home there inside
Should I tell them that I am
A perfect example of all You can do with a lifeWhat should I say to them, what if I'm failing them?
What should I say to them, what if I'm failing them?
What should I tell them tonight?
