Vulnerable

Pet Shop Boys

You may think I'm strong and I can do no wrong but I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without you
I may be hard to take but you can call me fake 'cause I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without youI know the assumption is that I'm tough
With all my anger, that's fair enough
Even with friends I have to compete
And try being mean when you walk down the street
It's not easy, by the by, just surviving in the public eyeYou may think I'm strong and I can do no wrong but I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without you
I may be hard to take but you can call me fake 'cause I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without youYou know I can't ever bear to seem weak
Or have any doubts, that's just my technique
I put in the hours, at least I don't shirk
A little bravado does much of the work
I am no one's stepping stone but I couldn't live life in private aloneYou may think I'm strong and I can do no wrong but I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without you
I may be hard to take but you can call me fake 'cause I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without youAt night I am lying awake through the hours
Trying to calculate am I good enough?
Can I contrive to keep this show on the road?
Will I survive?I know you must sometimes think I don't care
Or even appreciate what we share
Though I'm no one's stepping stone
The truth is I love you and I'd go crazy aloneYou may think I'm strong and I can do no wrong but I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without you
I may be hard to take but you can call me fake 'cause I'm vulnerable
So vulnerable without you, so vulnerable without you
So vulnerable without you
