

You're the One

Amy Rivard

When you're here, I have no fear
I've never felt this way
I feel safe and I feel strong
I finally feel like I belong. Didn't know what I was missin
Thought I could do it on my own
Had myself and that was fine
But that's all changed now that you're mine. I'd been floating thru space, lost in time.
Not knowing I had a place, a place that would be mine.
In your arms, I look at your face
Forever, lock me in your embrace Cuz you're the one, this I know
You're the one, and I love you so
You're the one and I know you know
Cuz this is all we've been waitin for Even though it might sound strange
It feels I already know you
Like we've lived life this before
Another time on another shore You hold me with your stare,
Your eyes I know their truth
Because your soul I recognize
Your smile is the greatest proof As a child, I dreamed of the day
You'd know my heart and come straight my way
In our hearts, the rhythm would beat in time
We'd realize the pain was worth the climb Cuz you're the one, this I know
You're the one, and I love you so
You're the one and I know you know
Cuz this is all we've been waitin for So many nights, so many tears
Growin all alone, too many years
I never gave up hope there was a reason for this time
This lonely time before you were mine. You're the one, this I know
You're the one and I love you so
You're the one and I know you know
Cuz this is all we've been waitin
Cuz you are the love I've been waitin cuz we are the love
I've been been waitin for
I've been been waitin for
I've been been waitin for
