Light

Darren Hayes

Light, it flickers
Your light, traveling down so deep, illumination
I have been cold
I have been blind
You have come to change my mind
I can put my faith in you
Light, it blisters
Your light, coming down so bright, transformation
Turn it up, give me some room to grow
Turn it up, give me that sense to know
I have been cold
I have been blind
You were sent to change my mind
I can put my faith in you
For something ordinary, it's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you, in you, in you
Ooh, in you, in you
Light, it glitters

Your light, when I stand this close, it's almost blinding
Turn it up, give me some room to grow
Turn it up, give me the sense to know
I have been changed, I have become
I have flamed, I am the sun
I'm the reflection of you
For something ordinary, it's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you, in you, in you
Ooh, in you, in you, in you, you, you
For something ordinary, it's so extraordinary
I trust, I put my faith in you
In you, in you, in you
In you, you, you
It flickers, it blisters, it glitters
Ooh, in you, in you
In you, you, you
You are
