

Burning Bridges

Megadeth

You give up on yourself
Somehow you got betrayed again
Thin ice and luck runs out
Who will you blame it on this time? Due to lack of interest in you
At the light at the end of the tunnel
Was turned off
And something I noticed
Beating you is thrilling me
I've got a secret for you If you took your own direction
If only you practice what you preach
If you follow your advice
You wouldn't be burning bridges all the time Don't close your eyes to injustice
Listen, being brave ain't chicken shit
A man without any valor
Has nothing worth living for Due to lack of interest in you
At the light at the end of the tunnel
Was turned off
And something I noticed
Beating you is thrilling me
I've got a secret for you If you took your own direction
If only you practice what you preach
If you follow your advice
You wouldn't be burning bridges all the time If you took your own direction
If only you practice what you preach
If you follow your advice
You wouldn't be burning bridges all the time If you took your own direction
If only you practice what you preach
If you follow your advice
You wouldn't be burning bridges all the time
