Epitaph

L'Ã‚me Immortelle

Too many souls just fade away
And leave nothing behind
Too many live just for the day
And let their time pass by

Too many graves stay nameless
In the garden of the dead
Too many pictures frameless
Blurred lost memories

Do not search this place for me
Search for me deep in your heart
If I haven't built my memorial there
My life has been in vain

So I must not fear the time
When the reaper shows its face
My memorial will shine
Brighter than the sun

Let come the night, the final day
To retreat forever
My soul will sweep away
And will not be forgotten

Do not search this place for me
Search for me deep in your heart
If I haven't built my memorial there
My life has been in vain

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by RAINER, THOMAS
Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/