

Love Makes You Blind

Fiona

I see you're hurting and it shows like violet
Seems like you'll always feel this way
It sure is easy to say you'll survive it
No one's going through your hellHow could she walk away from so much love
How could she fool you all this time
Wide open eyes sometimes can't see it comingI guess
It's true
That love can make you
Love can make you blindLove makes you blind
Burns out the eyes of your heart
Yeah, love makes you blindShe was the center of your universe
She was the center of your life
She was the answer to a lover's dream
That maybe comes once, never twiceIt's like you stood before a tidal wave
And every bone was crushed inside
She said it couldn't be
Then you were broke down and crying
Right then you could seeIt used to hurt and then it shows like violet
How could she fool you all this time?I guess
It's true
That love can make you
Love can make you blindLove makes you blind
Burns out the eyes of your heart
Yeah, love makes you blind
Gone and burn out the eyes of your heart
Yeah, love makes you blind
And the more you love, yeah
Love makes you blind
