Passed You By

Communions

You've been searching for something to find
Was it everything you needed now?
You've been waiting for such a long time
Are you living in a moment now?You've been carryin' in on way on your shoulders
This is, this is for sure
You've been keeping to yourself getting older
Much more, much more than beforeBut failed it
On and on with everything goes wrong
You're hanging on
All this time, all you asking how...
Just passed you byYou've been knocking on that door half-hearted
Will you be happy when it opens up?
You're afraid that you won't finish what you've started
Like all your friends breaking upAnd you're sick of all the world with it's illusion
This is, this is for sure
You've been asking yourself in confusion
Whether or not this is a cureOn and on with everything goes wrong
You're hanging on
All this time, all you asking how...
Just passed you by
On and on with everything goes wrong
You're hanging on
All this time, all you asking how...
Just passed you by
