

Dark Passenger

Motionless in White

Bring me the head, rip the heart from my chest
'Cause the person that you knew, that you loved is dead
No cure, so tonight is the night
I'm going back on the deals with the devil I signed
Disappear into darkness Somehow I will break and destroy you
And reveal what was hidden in plain view
This disguise was designed
To deflect what I couldn't show you Shatter the glass, step away from the crash
I am slowly suffocating from the weight of my past
No cure for how I feel nothing inside
'Cause there's no black and no world dark enough to prescribe
(Born in blood) Somehow I will break and destroy you
And reveal what was hidden in plain view
This disguise was designed
To deflect what I couldn't show you I'm cursed right to the bone with apathy
A guest in my own home is how I feel
Dear sanity, I miss you so, come back to me
"There are no secrets in life
Just hidden truths beneath the surface"
(Time is the enemy) When will I let (go)
Time is the enemy
I can't take the pain, there's blood in the drain
Now the urge is gettin' stronger and I'm going insane
There's a monster in my head it couldn't be any clearer
I am truly terrified by the man in the mirror Somehow I will break and destroy you
And reveal what was hidden in plain view
This disguise was designed
To deflect what I couldn't show you To the dearly departed,
I'll devour the fate you can't undo
Disappear into darkness
Born in blood, I'm not like you
