

Was It I?

Takida

I was barely breathing
I was fighting you in my room
The heart just keeps on bleeding
You feel so bare you know it's way too soon But I've tried and it's time to confess
Was it I, was it I, who broke you down last night
Do you mind, I can't find
Not a single ground
Will you give it one last try
To be alive Days flow into horror
Say your prayers for what it's worth
Take your last look forward
Lonely visions watch them burn But I've tried and it's time to confess
Was it I, was it I, who broke you down last night
Do you mind, I can't find
Not a single ground
Will you give it one last try There's so much we can build on
So much to loose
It seems that everyone is tired
This is nothing I choose
Maybe tomorrow is different I don't know how
'Cause the only word in my mind is goodbye Was it I, who broke you down last night
Do you mind, I can't find
Not a single ground Was it I?
One last try
(x3) Was it I, who broke you down last night
Do you mind, I can't find
Not a single ground
(x2) Give me one last try
To be alive
