I Hurt for You (Re-Recorded)

Deborah Allen

You know it kills me to see you crying, to think of all your love
He's been denyin' and I can't blame you for feeling cheated
Being so in love and so unneeded
But, the reason you keep trying is a feelin' that I knowOh, I hurt for you every time, he breaks your heart
Baby, I hurt for you and it's tearing me apart
To care the way I do, baby I'm a fool
I watch you long for him and I hurt for youSo love won't work out the way you planned it
Darling, all to well I understand it but I'll be right here to console you
If that's the only chance I'll have to hold you
'Cause you're so lonely being stranded with a dream you can't let goOh, I hurt for you every time he breaks your heart
Baby, I hurt for you and it's tearing me apart
To care the way I do, baby, I'm a fool
I watch you long for him and I hurt for youOh, if you could want the one who loves you
Oh, maybe you would want me now if you could just see howI hurt for you every time he breaks your heart
Baby, I hurt for you and it's tearing me apart
To care the way I do, baby, I'm a fool
I watch you long for him and I hurt for you
I know you long for him, but I hurt for you
