Private Conversations

Element 101

Dream on a dream that's gone
To have a star to wish upon
Dream on a dream that's gone
Keep holding onSitting so careful and still
The morning's thrill holding me there yet until
In this mere meaning's embrace
True logic can fall into placeTomorrow never seemed so big
The sky's still the limit with you
Don't lose heart in the meantime
Keep with me and we'll be fineTomorrow never seemed to big
The sky's still the limit with you
Don't lose heart in the meantime
Sing with meMy mind was wandering away
More every day, scattered in disarray
Oh God, you've broken through
Taking me from where I withdrewTomorrow never seemed so big
The sky's still the limit with you
Don't lose heart in the meantime
Keep with me and we'll be fineTomorrow never seemed to big
The sky's still the limit with you
Don't lose heart in the meantime
Sing with meComparing everything
Never got me very far in life
I have not known a love
That can compare to where you areSitting so careful and still
The evening's thrill, holding me there yet until
In the true sense of alone
My heart has finally found a home
