

Worlds Apart

Drop City

Lying all alone, wishing you would call
Writing all my thoughts has broken all my bones
You gave it all up, you threw it all away
There's nothing I can doWhat do I think of dying?
You know it's even worse
Than what's in my head
You don't believe me when I tell youI don't want to be a fraud
And pretend that every thing's fine
I won't be here when you get home
I'm not gonna sit here and dieI'll follow through again this time
I'll swallow swords, spit out my pride
I'll be just fineYou read me like a book
You know I'm running out of legs to stand on
I won't believe you when you tell meThese old habits die so hard
There's no intervention in sight
There's no point in calling you
I'm just gonna stand here and fightI'll follow through again this time
I'll swallow swords, spit out my pride
I'll be just fine, fineYou fill my head with endless lies
You're killing me, I'm killing time
I'll be just fineSo, maybe one day the pain will go away
And I will see your face, I won't even care
Changing all the locks 'cause I can't change youI'll follow through again this time
I'll swallow swords, spit out my pride
I'll be just fine, fineYou fill my head with endless lies
You're killing me, I'm killing time
I'll be just fineI'll follow through again this time
I'll swallow swords, spit out my pride
I'll be just fine, fineYou fill my head with endless lies
You're killing me, I'm killing time
I'll be just fine
