White Bark

Mergence

We are here together
All together
In the same house
We all feel the wind blow
We feel the wind blow
From the same skies
I tried to find the light in
To find the light in Anything rain or shine
We are here together
All together
We will shiiiiine

We go up to the mountains where the wind blows through the white bark trees
Follow me to the canyons
Feel our mother's energy

We live inside a bubble
It takes a Hubble
To see through the smoggy clou-ou-ou-ou-ouds
They make my eyes burn
Make my eyes burn
For relea e-eese
So come with me to the canyons
Where the shade comes around two or three
And we'll get lost at the bottom
At the bottom
Then we'll climb

We go to the mountains where the wind blows through the white bark trees
Follow me to the canyons
Feel our mother's energy

We go up to the mountains
In the morning we come home
Follow me to the canyons
In the morning we come home

We go up to the mountains
In the morning we come home

Follow me to the canyons
In the morning we come home
