Another You

Michael Paynter

it's turning into an obsession i think i'm falling into you i give all of my possessions just to know the truthohif i could capture your attention i would steal your heart away that i'm afraid of your rejection so the more it fades the more it fades oohEvery time i smile i'm lying every time you leave i'm dying coz i know there'll never be another youanother you (x6) you'll never be another youit's freezing cold, my hands are shaking i call your name like it's a prayer the ice beneath my feet is breaking i drown without you here (x2)Every time i smile i'm lying
coz i know there'll never be another youand every breath you breathe i feel it if you will give your heart i'll seal it
coz i know there'll never be another youanother you (x6) you'll never be another youi never wanna walk away and still i hear you sayEvery time i smile i'm lying
coz i know there'll never be another youcoz i knowand every breath you breathe i feel it if you will give your heart i'll seal it
you'll never be another you
