A Perfect Day

Alys

You can do it I know you can, I know you will
You can make it I know you can, get up the hill
You can be anyone you want, just close your eyes
You can picture a perfect day inside your mindYouve gotta pull your head up, stand your ground and face it all
Youve gotta hold your heart out to the universe
If you believe in who you are my shining star
If you believe in who you are my shining starAll you weary, all of you on your own
Listen clearly, follow your voice back home
All you broken, all of you without love
Youll be fine, youll see when the morning comesYouve gotta hold your head up, throw your shoulders through the wall
Youve gotta count your blessings, count your lucky days
Youll never know unless you try, until you risk it all
If you believe in who you are my shining starAll you weary, all of you on your own
Listen clearly, follow your voice back home
All you broken, all of you without love
Youll be fine, youll see when the morning comesAll you weary, all of you on your own
Listen clearly, follow your voice back home
All you broken, all of you without love
Youll be fine
