Ain't That Bad

The Heptones

It's been a while ya trippin babe
How you wanna stay away
Missin you like crazy
Tell me what's the deal ladyCan we ease up this painThis thing that we fought about Ain't worth the love we talk about
We got a bond and it takes two to work it outCan't give it up no wayI am made for you, you were made for meYou're soul is the most precious thing that I've held
We're connected here by faith, that's why you're my mateCan we drop this now and just let this beA perfect man what a goal would a perfect woman hold
Such a better though to the one who loves herWhat I gotta do to make you smile
Cause you know I haven't seen you laughing in a while
Baby what we going through ain't that badWhat I gotta do to make ya see
When I'm hurting you I'm hurting every part of me
Tell me can we back that we had
What we going through ain't badI can role play if you learn to play a role
It's a fifty/fifty thing come on let's begin
We got behind so behindWe got things to see things and places to go
So much catching up to do baby girl come on
Let's be one againWhat I gotta say to make you smile
Cause you know I haven't seen you laughing in a while
Baby what we going through ain't that badAnd what I gotta do to make ya see
When I'm hurting you I'm hurting every part of me
Tell me can we back that we had
What we going through ain't badCan we try to make things right
What I gotta say to make you smile
Baby tell me
Oh oh oh babyWhat I gotta do to make you smile
Cause you know I haven't seen you laughing in a while
Baby what we going through ain't that badWhat I gotta do to make ya see
When I'm hurting you I'm hurting every part of me
Tell me can we back that we had
What we going through ain't badWhat I gotta do to make you smile
Cause you know I haven't seen you laughing in a while
Baby what we going through ain't that bad
