Moongate

Samael

Clashes of thoughts, of desires and hope
lift you up, straight to the top of the world
With fluidity of energy in constant availability
All that glitters all that matters beyond rivalries
Amplified universality, transcending dualities
Body chemistry, linked spiritually
Right in time every time, synchronized all alongDestiny, tomorrow is today
Destiny, without boundaries
How many nights will we spend together traveling infinity back and forth and again
How many times will we go together questioning eternity about us about our wonders...
Step in, break through, take the stairs to the stars
Stretch out your life, make it big, make it large Feed the space in-between, fill it up, make it real Hell you feel you're alive, you affirm your own will It's been good all along and the best is to come
No fear, no doubt but the driving force to go on Air's dry, we're wet, ain't seen nothing yet
Silence cried as we met, dig, dig our own depthDestiny without boundaries
How many nights will we spend together traveling infinity back and forth and again
How many times will we go together questioning eternity about us about our wonders
How many nights will we spend together traveling infinity back and forth and again
How many times will we go together questioning eternity about us about our wonders...
Clashes of thoughts, of desires and hope
lift you up, straight to the top of the world
It's amazing how good things can be when it goes, when it flows
With fluidity of energy in constant availability
All that glitters all that matters beyond rivalries
Amplified universality, transcending dualities
Body chemistry, linked spiritually
Right in time every time
Synchronized all along
How many nights will we spend together traveling infinity back and forth and again
How many times will we go together questioning eternity about us about our wonders
How many nights will we spend together traveling infinity back and forth and again
How many times will we go together questioning eternity about us about our wonders Back and forth and again, back and forth and again...
