Clock Is Down

Letter Kills

the clock is down and I am losing
one day at a time
well who'd have thought that our hands would stop right hereAnd maybe I could just forget you for just a little while cause everything you said is coming back in timewell maybe I should say goodbye
cause
I'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel inside
I'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel insidethe clock is down and I am losing
one day at a time
I still remember the first time you were here and every time I see your picture I thank god for a smile
cause everything you said is keeping me in linewell maybe I should say goodbyeI'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel inside
I'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel insidelast signs will never stop him (did you hear me?) the last signs, will never stop him (i said did you hear me) the last signs, will never stop him (whatd you say)
the last signs, will never stop him (whatd you say) the last signs, will never stop him (i tried to fake it, but I couldn't hold it in) the last signs, will never stop him (I couldn't hold it, I couldn't hold it in)well maybe I should say goodbyeI'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel insideyeah, I'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel insideI'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel insideyeah, I'd like to run away
I'd like to say a few things to you about the way I feel inside
