

The Flag I Flew

Robin Gibb

The only world I ever knew
Was from the window in my attic
When you walked in a violin began to play
But then I heard a lonely word - goodbye
You never told me why The flag I flew, well it fell down around my shoulder
And all too soon clouds crossed the moon
This theatre's over I often dream of days just beamed
Of when I catch the one I conquer
When all the stars shaped like guitars
Would start to sound
But then I heard a lonely word - goodbye
You never told me why The flag I flew, well it fell down around my shoulder
And all too soon clouds crossed the moon
This theatre's over
This theatre's over
This theatre's over
