Something To Believe In

Fm Static

You've been trying to get me open
Caught out in the open, everyone is hoping You'd give anything to take this
Everything to brake this, everyone is faceless
Give me somethin' to believe in
Quick, or else I'm leavin', need a better reason
I know things get complicated, so mis-educated
It's a wonder that we made it
Situation, under speculation
What are we facin'? Too much complications
Looking for a name and a new generation
A new focus, new destination
I don't wanna look, I just wanna find
Can you give me something to believe in?
Keep your religion, don't need your lies
I'm just looking for one good reason
Feel like it's teenage hunting season
And nothing out there sounds half decent
Who's out there? Who's going to save us?
Before we all fall through the cracks in the pavement
You've been trying to get me open
Caught out in the open, everyone is hopin'
Give me something to believe in
Quick or else I'm leaving, need a better reason
I know, I'm never gonna fall in line
So don't even bother wasting your time
I'm a breed of a different kind
Sent back just to invade your mind
Situation, under speculation
What are we facin'? Too much complications
Looking for a name and a new generation
A new focus, new destination
I don't wanna look, I just wanna find
Can you give me something to believe in?
Keep your religion, don't need your lies
I'm just looking for one good reason
Feel like it's teenage hunting season
And nothing out there sounds half decent
Who's out there? Who's going to save us?

Before we all fall through the cracks in the pavement
And if you don't know what I'm talking about
It's probably better 'cause I'm working it out
Don't wanna spend my lifetime figurin' out
That I coulda just said one prayer
And if you know what I'm talking about
Then together we're both working it out
Don't wanna spend my lifetime figurin' out
I missed the point, now it's over
I missed the point, now it's over
I missed the point, now it's over
I missed the point, now it's over
I missed the point, now it's over
I missed the point, now it's over
