The Day Has Come

X-Ray Dog

Softly I, Softly I, am sleeping
Like an unborn child, with a lullaby
Safe and sound, human hearts are beating
But it's an hourglass, breaking with the time
When the sky falls down
When the birds call out
In the crimson light
The light
| Like the day has come |
Heavy breath, heavy feet, we're running
Feel the time and sand's, forming in our eyes
Silver clouds, silver clouds, are burning
Every river shines, love is crystallized
When the sky falls down
When the birds call out
In the crimson light
| Like the day has come |
