Promises, Promises

Lynn Anderson

You've promised you would be true to me
But we both know you could never be You've been puttin' you on since the day we met
Promises, promises, that's all I ever get, that's all I ever getThen you promised me a ring
A weddin' gown and all of the things
But I ain't seen no diamond yet
Promises, promises, that's all I ever get, that's all I ever get
Promises, promises, that's all I getAll you gave me since the day we met
You break my heart in two again I'll bet
But promises, promises, that's all I ever get, that's all I ever getAnd now you tell me you've gone away
You swear to me that this time you'll stay
But I can't believe that I'm rid of you yet
Promises, promises, that's all I ever get, that's all I ever get
Promises promises, that's all I getAll you gave me since the day we met
You break my heart in two again I'll bet
Promises, promises, that's all I ever get, that's all I ever get Promises, promises, that's all I get
All you gave me since the day we met

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/