

Perfection

Jesse Bonanno

And although your face remains a picture of perfection, still I know
Your mind will only defeat your heart.
Forgive me, the things Iâ€™ve done, I didnâ€™t mean to be the reason why
Youâ€™ve lost the strength to say goodbye.

And just like now, oh,
Everything is holding you down tonight.
And even if it drives me crazy,
Iâ€™ll make everything alright
Because I love you.
Whoever you are,
Whatever you choose to do
And even if my world comes crashing
I will stand by you.

Iâ€™m trying to suffocate this picture of perfection in my mind
And I try, but everything turns out wrong.
If only to empty hope of discontinued faith on my behalf,
I take this chance to rise again.

And just like now, oh,
Everything is holding you down tonight.
And even if it drives me crazy,
Iâ€™ll make everything alright,
Because I love you
Whoever you are,
Whatever you choose to do.
And even if my world comes crashing,
I will stand by you.

So now we become the thing that some would say will break us in the end.
Follow the message that our hearts wonâ€™t let us send
Every time I think about an ending
I am forced back on my knees
Iâ€™m begging for my heart to understand it
That itâ€™s you that I need

So just like now, oh,
Everything thatâ€™s holding you down tonight
And even if it drives me crazy,

Iâ€™ll make everything alright
Because I love you
Whoever you are,
Whatever you choose to do.
And even if my world comes crashing,
I will die for you.
