Trembling

Altmodisch

Trembling, hold me nowI'm torn between silence and violent expression
Tired of believing everyone wants to care
And cherish someone I'm so scared
Of never having anyoneHaunted by my abandoned dreams
Tiny voices where would be screamsNow be still, it won't be longWe will be together in search of a new life
Striving as one in this world to find something pure
I'm missing you now I'm quite sure
That I've finally found someone
