

Trembling

Altnodisch

Trembling, hold me now I'm torn between silence and violent expression

Tired of believing everyone wants to care

And cherish someone I'm so scared

Of never having anyone Haunted by my abandoned dreams

Tiny voices where would be screams Now be still, it won't be long We will be together in search of a new life

Striving as one in this world to find something pure

I'm missing you now I'm quite sure

That I've finally found someone
