

Stars

Everly

Everyday I find I am looking for me
And these unfinished lives
And every movement and motion unsettles my heart
It's paralyzing
Maybe I'm crazy
I say there's a better way
When these waves come crashing on my shore
I will not be moved 'cause I know who I am When the stars all go home
I won't fight to be known
I will listen for you voice
It calls me home All of the lights are dimming
The comfort is cold
I'm drowning in the quiet
I take off my makeup
I'm tired of this side of my face
And my unfinished life
Maybe I'm crazy
I say there's a better way
When these waves come crashing on my shore
I will not be moved 'cause I know who I am When the stars all go home
I won't fight to be known
I will listen for your voice
It calls me home
